DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1- are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over
Netpulse Cycling, stepping, and surfing the Net [July 9/99]
<http://www.monitor.ca/monitor/issues/vol6iss12/netstuff.html>.

<http://www.netpulse.com/FitnessCenters.php?p=products> in view of Halleck et al.

Netpulse disclose all the claimed limitations, except for "a flash memory.

Halleck et al discloses, in a physiological condition monitor, a flash memory (col. 7, lines 5-17).

It would have been obvious to use Halleck et al's flash memory, with the Netpulse exercise device, as it is well known, as taught by Halleck et al, to use a flash memory in a physical device, for reducing power requirements, for quicker power ups and preventing vibration interference.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Mault et al disclose a physiological monitor incorporating a flash memory.
